

There is even a small debate between two tribes, where this could happen twice before the major synchronization of the Planets.

The legend continues by stating that the Largest animals of the world will become the smallest, and the smallest will become the largest-Giants! that can be tied to updated scientific evidences and finds. The only possible lifesforms found from an Ice Age, are Dinosaur Bones, except-----

If one was to take the secret Smithsonian Institute and the United States National Museum's THE VERO AND MELBOURNE MAN, archaeology find of 1917, It is known scientifically, that the American Indian as a tribal unit has survived all Ice Ages having the same lifestyle, cooking with fire, curing eatables, the same dress, living among the Dinosaurs, having the same/^{body}structure as the Indians found on Reservations today so they cannot be included in DARWIN'S theory of evolution.

If we were to take the secret report of THE VERO AND MELBOURNE MAN, New York Academy of Sciences(1950), they know the time of the last Ice Age within 2,000 years.

On the scientific report "SYNTHETISISCHE ARTBIDUNG by Nilsson, on the mystery and unknown world energy that causes the outcome of an Ice Age; the American Indian legend on-"THE RED WIND THAT BLOWS OVER THE LANDS TO CLEANSE THEM."----- stand side by side.

But these are Indian legends told by Indians who have no educational credentials. If they did have such credentials, these legends could only be made into a book for small children, and not belong, to a nation or culture.

Today!! If the legend on the Great Migration could be told to many Indians on reservations, through tribal courtesy, the response would make the legend appear to be, "very foolish."

" THIS COULD NEVER, OR WILL NEVER HAPPEN IN MY LIFETIME!"

Please note! The validity of the legend is not questioned.

But how foolish is this legend to the White Elite Peoples of the world? Who is really the foolish? The Indian that tells of the Great Migration, or the Indian that believes it could never happen in their lifetime?

Let's take the opinions of scholars and scientist to the White Man's world in ANTHROPOLOGY, ANTIQUITY, ASTROLOGY, and ASTRO-PHYSICS.

First, remember' this absolute fact. They have on computers, every

There is even a small debate between two tribes, where this could happen twice before the major synchronization of the Planets.

The legend continues by stating that the Largest animals of the world will become the smallest, and the smallest will become the largest-Giants!

that can be tied to updated scientific evidences and finds. The only possible lifesforms found from an Ice Age, are Dinosaur Bones, except-----

If one was to take the secret Smithsonian Institute and the United States National Museum's THE VERO AND MELBOURNE MAN, archaeology find of 1917, It is known scientifically, that the American Indian as a tribal unit has survived all Ages having the same lifestyle, cooking with fire, curing eatables, the same dress, living among the Dinosaurs, having the same/Bgäacture as the Indians found on Reservations today so they cannot be included in DARWIN'S theory of evolution.

If we were to take the secret report of THE VERO AND MELBOURNE MAN,

New York Academy of Sciences(1950), they know the time of the last 'Tee

Age within 2,000 years.

On the scientific report "SYNTHETISISCHE ARTBIDUNG by Nilsson, on the mystery and unknown world energy that causes the outcome of an ice Age; A the American Indian legend on-"THE RED WIND THAT BLOWS OVER THELANDS TO CLEANSE THEM."----- stand side by side.

But these are Indian legends told by indians who have no educational credentials. If they did have such credentials, these legends could only be made into a book for small children, and not belong, to a nation or culture. o

Today! E If the legend on the Great Migration could be told to many Indians on reservations; through tribal courtesy, the resgionse would make the legend appear to be, "very foolish."

" THIS COULD NEVER, OR WILL NEVER HAPPEN IN MY LIFETIME! "

Please note! The Validity of the legend is not questioned.

But how foolish _is this legend to the White Elite Peoples of the World who is really the foolish? The Indian that tells of the Great ' Migration, or the Indian that believes it could happen in their - lifetime? «

Let's Èake the opinions of scholars and scientist to t

he. White Man' s

First, remember' this absolute fact. They have on computers, every