

The day that will identify those from excluded, from included is not the frightening experience but the experience of leaving loved ones or to be left as a loved one. Those that could be included fear the coming of this time, more than those that will be excluded because the GOOD are left with the responsibility for providing a way for the BAD to have a second chance. That is tribal law only in this circumstance, tribal law must yield to the CREATOR'S LAW. For the Indian not to be able to depend on tribal law is the same as existing as a White Man with no spiritual center and a void existence. To be excluded means only one condemning conclusion. To be forever spiritually DEAD and without the protection of becoming another human being, but a petrified or stone statue, or be buried in a global catastrophe to become the new petroleum oil or coal supply of the new world yet to come. Every Indian knows this not only intellectually, but genetically. It is too final with no room for any excuses.

So, if the time for the coming journey of the GREAT MIGRATION to be made by Indians, than this much feared prior event has to be shaping up in today's history.

LAST, is another responsibility of the American Indian. How far this responsibility goes or the extent of it has not been made clear in either writings, teachings, or legends. 40 years of asking old traditionalist has not made it specific; only that it is open to whoever asks but no commitment that it stops here. It deals directly with those who are non-tribal members who could have the right, to make the journey of the great migration with the Indian. which now makes all races of the world to have this right with one stipulation. To Know who they are genetically.

This obligation seems to extent itself, when an Indian knows, the first Pilgrims that landed here, believed and worshipped out of the first Bible printed in 451A.D. that matched the beliefs and rituals of the American Indian in the beginning; that was changed and reprinted by the PETERBOROUGH MONASTERY of England, in 1716A.D., to match the one that the SCHOLARS OF BEDE (Baeda) did in England that is known today as, THE KING JAMES VERSION.

Everyone has been taught and believe that Columbus discovered the America's, yet supporting documented evidences cannot support or verify this fact.
