

concept alone, the Ancient and the civilized are worlds apart

What the Indian says, using any of the civilized languages builds an expression that has logics at different grades that are comprehended mentally at different levels. I have seen arguments by a couple where the civilized is presenting a serious part to their relationship that needs attention and must be corrected. The Indian breaks out in laughter not because it does not love the other, but because the civilized word arrangements has built an expression that does not have all the parts and the missing parts makes the final expression funny and insulting.

The civilized mind on the other side which has rules for good and bad use of the language and demands the rules be used for a passing grade in education. So, when a teacher has a young girl or boy in front of the class, who appears to be bashfull and unable to learn correct use of the language and is graded by this appearance, this Indian is not bashfull but reluctant to quote the phrase as the Teacher demands it because in many cases, it presents a very stupid expression in which the Indian does not want his or her friends to laugh at them.

The civilized mind has no idea the mental torture this Indian is going through.

We can now give the rule to being an Ancient Prophet. He or She is a descendant of a tribe where the women rule or a Matriarch Society.

Is this Ancient Prophet subject to anyone else outside of the CREATOR, GREAT SPIRIT?

YES!! but you're not going to like the answer.

Too begin, let us mention a Septuagint taken from the Indian Mounds in this country that is 2000 years older then the civilized Septuagint and not touched by modern trandlators, which both in the British Museum, and we will establish the Rule that all Ancients are the same because the original Old Bible was from the Ancients Isrealities who at present are still in hiding

concept alone, the Ancient and the civilized are worlds apart
What the Indian says, using any of the civilized languages builds an expression that has logics at different grades that are comprehended mentally at different levels. I have seen arguments by a couple where the civilized is presenting a serious part to their relationship that needs attention and must be corrected. The Indian breaks out in laughter not because it does not love the other, but because the civilized word arrangements has built an expression that does not have all the parts and the missing parts makes the final expression funny and insulting.
The civilized mind on the other side which has rules for good and bad use of the language and demands the rules be used for a passing grade in education. So, when a teacher has a young girl or boy in front of the class, who appears to be bashful and unable to learn correct use of the language and is graded by this appearance, this Indian is not bashful but reluctant to quote the phrase as the Teacher demands it because in many cases, it presents a very stupid expression in which the Indian does not want his or her friends to laugh at them.

The civilized mind has no idea the mental torture this Indian is going through.

We can now give the rule to being an Ancient Prophet. He or She is a descendant of a tribe where the women rule or a Matriarch Society.
Is this Ancient Prophet subject to anyone else outside of the CREATOR, GREAT SPIRIT?

YES!! but you're not going to like the answer.

Too begin, let us mention a Septuagint taken from the Indian Mounds in this country that is 2000 years older than the civilized Septuagint and not touched by modern translators, which both in the British Museum, and we will establish the Rule that all Ancients are the same because the original Old Bible was from the Ancients Isrealities who at present are still in hiding