

Everyone leaves the party or gathering believing this Indian was a party-poofer. Not so! The joke touched on a concept in the lifestyle that was sacred and the other Indian, was being judged for violating the state of perfection. If a non-Indian had told the joke, nothing would have come of it because it is understood, the non-Indian does not know the state of perfection.

So the judging standards of human perfection by the Indian is drawn from a very fine line according to civilized standards but a bottomless pit when violated by another Indian which has no compensation or concession or conceding privileges.

So to be righteous or religious gives no privileges if one has violated human standards set down by the CREATOR, GREAT SPIRIT. If these standards were handed-down from the CREATOR, GREAT SPIRIT, they would have to be genetic.

So, TO WALK ON THE RAYS OR BEAUTY IN THE HOUSE MADE OR CALLED DAWN, is a state of human perfection judged by a set of standards of ethics which are not part of the civilized world of attributes and attitudes.

You can be a SON or DAUGHTER of a King or Queen or President or Dictator or Emperor; Have all the wealth in the world; Have members in a huge Organization and be prejudice to non-members; it still offers no compensation or concession or conceding privileges to be a -

T I M E W A L K E R , in the House made of Dawn.

Everyone leaves the party or gathering believing this Indian; was a party-pooper. Not so! The joke touched on a concept in the lifestyle that was sacred and the other Indian, was being judged for violating the state of perfection. If a non-Indian had told the joke, nothing would have come of it because it is understood, the non-Indian does not know the state of perfection.

So the judging standards of human perfection by the Indian is drawn from a very fine line according to civilized standards but a bottomless pit when violated by another Indian which has no compensation or offering or conceding privileges.

So to be righteous or religious gives no privileges if one has violated human standards set down by the CREATOR, GREAT SPIRIT. If these standards were handed-down from the CREATOR, GREAT SPIRIT, they would have to be genetic. _

So, TO WALK ON THE RATS OR BEAUTY IN THE HOUSE MADE OR CALLED DAWN, is a state of human perfection judged by a set of standards of ethics which are not part of the civilized world of attributes and attitudes.

You can be a SON or DAUGHTER of a King or Queen or President or Dictator or Emperor; Have all the wealth in the world; Have members in

Organization and be prejudice to non-members; it still offers no compensation or concession or conceding privileges to be a TIME WALKER , in the House made of Dawn.