

so that can't be used. If one was to question a scientist of this culture, they would respond by stating that it takes light leaving the Sun and traveling 93 million miles, 500 seconds or 8 minutes and 20 seconds to reach Earth.

THE ANCIENT INDIAN TRADITIONALIST cannot make such a broad and simple statement on the subject of light and its speed, (1) because the lifestyle and its sciences are all inter-linked and cannot be separated. (2) The Ancient Indian culture has a science that teaches a theory and formula, how light is created, which does not exist in the civilized world.

The theory was taught to me by my Indian grandmother who could neither write, read, or speak the English language. She had never been to a civilized school. The B.I.A. knew she considered it a sin to speak a language not her own. The town of Sisseton, South Dakota had to deal with her on her bases because when she shopped for food and clothing they had to speak her language, white or Indian. When she came to town everybody called her CUN'SHE which means Grandmother, white or Indian. I'm telling you this so no one can make the statement/<sup>accusation</sup>that my grandmother was instructed by a disciple of MANICHEISM which was founded by a Persian Prophet MANES alleged to have lived between 216-276 A.D.

SHE STATED:

That LIGHT is created by TIME acting as an Opposing Force which has 12 powers when it is seen by the human eye. But when it was created, it still had to travel to reach Earth and when it went by the Planet VENUS, it changed-over and started to age and while on this journey to Earth, it Created the Cycle of Life.

Of course this was after she taught me how to separate Time out of Light. Using the cycle of TIME versus the cycle of LIGHT, this gave me the time it takes light of the Sun to reach Earth.

But the Earth is moving as an opposing force the opposite of the Planet VENUS which also has/<sup>an</sup>opposite opposing force, which is aging light.

they would respond by stating that it takes light leaving the Sun and traveling 93 million miles, 8 minutes and 20 seconds to reach Earth.

THE ANCIENT INDIAN TRADITIONALIST cannot make such a broad and simple statement on the subject of light and its speed, (1) because the lifestyle and its sciences are all inter-linked and cannot be separated. (2) The Ancient Indian culture has a science that teaches a theory and formula, how light is created, which does not exist in the civilized world.

The theory was taught to me by my Indian grandmother who could neither write, read, or speak the English language. She had never been to a civilized school. The B.I.A. knew she considered it a sin to speak a language not her own. The town of Sisseton, South Dakota had to deal with her on her bases because when she shopped for food and clothing they had to speak her language, white or Indian. When she came to town everybody called her CUN'SHE which means Grandmother, white or Indian. I'm telling you this accusation so no one can make the statement/that my grandmother was instructed by a disciple of HANICHEISM which was founded by a Persian Prophet MARES alleged to have lived between 216-276 A.D.

SHE STATED: _

That LIGHT is created by TIME acting as an Opposing Force which has 12 powers when it is seen by the human eye. But when it was created, it still had to travel to reach Earth and when it went by the Planet VENUS, it changed-over and started to age and while on this journey to Earth, - it Created the Cycle of Life. course 'this was after she taught me how to separate Time out of Light. Using the cycle of TIME versus the cycle of LIGHT, this gave me herein in the light of the sun to reach Earth.

But the Earth is moving as an opposing force the opposite of the Planet VENUS which also has/opposite opposing force, which is aging light. of the Planet