

The problem: HOW DID THE ANCIENT AMERICAN INDIAN ENTER HIS PROBLEM INTO THE COMPUTER WITH HIS MIND OR THOUGHT AND THE COMPUTER PRINTED OUT THE ANSWER?

You see! The computer has no keys to punch or push.

Many of the upper middle-class are already getting prepared for this time and they believe they have the exact time within 5 years.

To them, 1990 is the time to start converting assets and parts of the present culture they wish to retain into the new system.

So, the new system is obvious, so obvious that I wrote a corporation that use to make computers quit and I asked them why? because I felt their system was pretty close to the Indian method. I gave them the reason or key why the present system of making computers would not make it.

What I'm about to show, every Anthropologist and Antiquity Scientist since the days of Julius Caesar has seen, but never understood what it ment.

A concept on how the new civilized language will be used to listen and communicate through-out the world.

010000010010000001100001= A a The space is included in this.
The present system used by computer makers and companies.
0101000001010010010010010100111001010100= PRINT. Now this has to be programed, which now makes it a large function of the computer, and the computer hasn't done anything yet.

If the computer is to have other functions and everyone knows that for functions to be correct the storage area of the Binary language must be kept cool. Functions that print their answers lose their accuracy through what is called:"bleeding" which is due to heat where the Binary language moves.

The Corporation that no longer make their computers, had exact different levels for different functions with a different Binary language for each different level. In entering information, the information could not go to a different elvel or just any level so it was automatically

The problem: HOW DID THE ANCIENT AMERICAN INDIAN ENTER HIS PROBLEM INTO THE COMPUTER WITH HIS MIND OR THOUGHT AND THE COMPUTER PRINTED OUT THE ANSWER?

You see! The computer has no keys to punch or push.

Many of the upper middle-class are already getting prepared for this time and they believe they have the exact time within 5 years.

To them, 1990 is the time to start converting assets and parts of the present culture they wish to retain into the new system.

So, the new system is obvious, so obvious that I wrote a corporation that use to make computers quit—and I asked them why? because I felt their system was pretty close to the Indian method. I gave them the reason or key why the present system of making computers would not make it.

What I'm about to show, every Anthropologist and Antiquity Scientist since the days of Julius Caesar“ has seen, but never understood what it meant.

A concept on how the new civilized language will be used to listen and communicate through-out the world.

010000010010000001100001= A a The space is included in this . The present system used by computer makers and companies. 010100000101001001001001010011001010100= PRINT. Now this has to be programmed, which now makes it a large function of the computer, and

the__computer hasn't done anything yet. -

If the computer is to have other functions and everyone knows that for functions to be correct the storage area of the Binary language must be kept cool. Functions that print their answers lose their accuracy through what is called:"bleeding" which is due to heat where the Binary language moves .

'The Corporation that no longer' make their computers, had exact different 'levels for different functions with a different Binary language for each different level. In entering information, the information could not go to a different level or just any level so it was automatically