

Few if any, civilized world historians, past or present, like to be remained of the greatest world cooperation that went on between Aboriginal nations throughout the world that suffered not only under Roman but Greek rule for close to 1,000 years.

(370-410A.D.) At the close of the 3rd. century and beginning of the 4th. century, Saxon, Anglia, Mercia, and Northumbrith tribes conquered Rome's ENGLAND, FRANCE and SPAIN. It was King or Chief Alaric who conquered and sacked Rome.

(406-453A.D.) King or Chief Attilia of the Huns conquered remaining Euoprean and Asian countries.

Their Empire can be recorded as follows:

(708-814A.D.) King Charlemagne (Charles), who was also the Holy Roman Emperor.

(775-839A.D.) Egbert first King or Chief of England.

(849-901A.D.) Alfred first Saxon King of England.

(1022-1066A.D.) Herold II. Last Saxon King of England.

(If one was to wonder why England has a undying hate for Germany, remember it was these German tribes that conquered them.)

(1122-1204A.D.) Queen Eleanor of Aquitaine of France.

(1152-1190A.D.) King Frederich of France. Was also Holy Roman Emperor.

(1162-1227A.D.) Genhis Khan Comqueror of Europe and Asia.

(1166-1216A.D.) King John of England who wrote the Magna Carta which established Human civil rights 6/19/1215.

(1214-1294A.D.) Kubral Khan, Mongol Dynasty of China

(1300-1919A.D.) The beginning of the Otterman Empire by the Turks which can be linked to the breaking of this old Ancient Empire for the civilized or descendants of the old Roman Empire.

(1337-1380A.D.) King CHARLES V of France.
