

Buddy: "Boy! thats going to be a crowded field."

Pam: "Penny! why don't you get rid of that Boeing 707. Its to^p big.
How can we follow not being noticed with you taking up the whole sky!"

Penny: "Just jealous!"

Clair: "Lets get some changes of clothes and leave. Look! I have to stop at Santa Fe and mail those films back. Get back to Albuquerque and wait with you guys.

Wynona: "Tomorrow at 9:00a.m. we leave. Lets move it."

With that everyone moves out to get ready for tomorrow. The d cision is made to stay at Clair's.

5:45AM. June 14th. Outside of Gallop, New Mexico at a rest area.

The blinding rays of Sunrise wake the Time Walker. Tired and sleepy yet he has a few more miles to go before he can rest from this trip.
Gets out of the Bird and stretches. The Rest Area is beginning to move with activity with other travelers , trying to get their families into the traveling road. "LOOK MOMMY! AN INDIAN!" says a little boy watching the Time Walker stretch. He crawls back into the Bird, turns the key and the engine springs to life. Time is tiring if you have drive against the Sun light but he is tired and can rest when he reaches Santa Fe. The film has to be brought back there. Clair will be angry to find he didn't stay till she got there. The Bird is now throbbing peacefully, eating away at the miles. At 8:45a.m. he takes the line going north on 25 that leads to Santa Fe. Only 80 more miles and he can sleep till tomorrow.

11:00 a.m. Albuquerque Airport Hangers where five huge Jets are getting serviced. All privately owned. Service personal can be heard saying:
