

The phrase-"THE WHITE MAN" which is known to be used by American Tribal Members, is not connected to a race or color, but a lifestyle which has no english word for comparison to a tribal word, so the word "civilized" will be used.

The civilized when calculating their sciences have a beginning reference from which a conclusion will be detrimined to an imaginary future, someplace forward down or up. This concept omits an observer.

A tribal scientist reference point is at the very end. He begins his theory by looking back to where he started from in the past, backwards up and down, in which he is always the observer. As this observer, he was able to give a simple solution to life, which is highly technical, that is not a science in the civilized world- "THE PRESENT MINUS THE PAST, EQUALS THE FUTURE."

As a civilized individual, born and raised to think and present logics from Aristotles TOPIC OF TOPICS philosophy, are now asked to defend two philosophers, who you know little or nothing about; against a tribal member who is an observer to these philosophers, who has been classified intellectually somewhere's between a dog and a beast by your society.

But by tribal law which must be shown by tribal courtesy, a tribal member cannot use this advantage, but within a system the civilized understands. However, I'm not required to step down from a high place.

To begin this explanation, If one was to take this 186,000 miles per second using the civilized system, it can be shown mathematically as follows:

0.000000000298324107

Any high school can work this out. When I was in a Góvernment Indian School, it had to been done at the Elementary level.

Lets expend this into a graph that shows how little is known on the Speed of light.

i

The phrase—"THE WHITE MAN" which is known to be used by American Tribal Members, is not connected to a race or color, but a lifestyle which has no English word for: comparison to a tribal word, so the word "civilized" will be used. i

The civilized when calculating their sciences have a beginning reference from which a conclusion will be determined to an imaginary future, someplace forward down or up. This concept emits an observer.

A tribal scientist reference point is at the very end. He begins his theory by looking back to where he started from in the past, backwards up and down, in which he is always the observer. As this observer, he was able to give a simple solution to life, which is highly technical, that is not a science in the civilized world- "THE PRESENT MINUS THE PAST, EQUALS THE FUTURE. "

As a civilized individual, born and raised to think and present logics from Aristotle's TOPIC OF TOPICS philosophy, are now asked to defend two philosophers, who you know little or nothing about; against a tribal member who is an observer to these philosophers, who has been classified intellectually somewhere's between a dog and a beast by your society.

But by tribal law which must be shown by tribal Courtesy, a tribal member cannot use this advantage, but within a system the civilized understands.

However, I'm not required to Step down from a high place.

To begin this explanation, If one was to take this 186,000 miles per second using the civilized system, it can be shown mathematically as follows:

0.000000000298324107

Any high school can work this out. when I was in a Government Indian School, it had to be done at the Elementary level.

Lets extend this into a graph that shows how little is known on the Speed of light.