

EVERYBODY TRYING TO BE INDIAN

To begin, we must understand what the white man's world uses as a theorem or equation for one complete day.

For one complete day, the white man uses 86,400 seconds in one day while the American Indian uses 432,000 units of time without light, which now causes a problem because the white world considers time by Sun Light that takes a little longer than the Indian system.

I believe it was JULIUS CAESAR, who I consider to be the best Antiquist or Anthropologist that ever lived who did not want to work with huge or large mathematical figures, concluded according to tribal systems on how the number of days in their calendar for one day had to have a theorem on the breakdown of one day.

He concluded that the 181 units for one day broken down from the whole 432,000 units, could be broken down still further by calling each of these units an Atom. $181 \text{ divide by } 12 \text{ units per atom} = 15\frac{1}{12} \text{ atoms or } - 15.08333 \text{ units for one complete day.}$

To me, from all references in existence, he became the first individual using tribal records was able to calculate the speed of Light.

Now the reason his findings were never used and Einstein's was, is was because Caesar's calculations gave away certain metaphysical and occult concepts from tribal secrets to spiritual powers.

What he calculated, if known by any tribal member, is $432,000 \text{ divide } 200 = 2160 \text{ divide } 12 = 180 \text{ units of time without light. It took time the other } 1 \text{ unit for the light from the Sun to appear, which had to be the speed of Light.}$

However, Caesar had a number of scientist and scholars murdered for not being able to calculate why it took 4.4 of these units to pass before the human eye would be able to see the Planet JUPITER. The calculations of his scientist and scholars kept coming up with over 9 of these Units.

This event in his historical records shows he had not translated enough of the tribal records in his possession, to calculate the speed of time.

This would have given Einstein his theorem on REALITY.

Let me now show why a Theorem does not exist on the theory to the speed of light.

Don't try to use the one on Radar because I know what the outcome will be on this concept.

To begin, we must understand what the white man's world uses as a theorem or equation for one complete day. For one complete day, the white man uses 86,400 seconds in one day while the American Indian uses 432,000 units of time without light which now causes problem because the white world considers time by Sun Light that takes a little longer than the Indian system.

I believe it was JULIUS CAESAR, who I consider to be the best Antiquist or Anthropologist that ever lived who did not want to work with huge or large mathematical figures, concluded according to tribal systems on how the number of days in their calendar for one to have a theorem on the breakdown of one day.

He concluded that the 181 units for one day broken down from the whole 432,000 units, could be broken down still further by calling each of these units an Atom. $181 \text{ divide by } 1 \text{ unit per atom} = \text{atoms or } - 15.08333 \text{ units for one complete day.}$

To me, from all references in existence, he became the first individual using tribal records was able to calculate the speed of Light.

Now the reason his findings were never used and Einstein's was, is because Caesar's calculations gave away certain metaphysical and occult concepts from tribal secrets to spiritual powers.

what he calculated, if known by any tribal member, is $432,000 \text{ divide } 200 = 2160 \text{ divide } 12 = 180 \text{ units of time without light. It took time the other } 1 \text{ unit for the light from the Sun to appear, which has to be the speed of Light.}$

However, Caesar had a number of scientist and scholars murdered for not being able to calculate why it took 4.4 of these units to pass before the human eye would be able to see the Planet JUPITER. The calculations of his scientist and scholars kept coming up with over 9 of these Units.

This event in his historical records shows he had not translated enough of the tribal records in his possession, to of time.

This would have given Einstein his theorem on REALITY. Let me now show why a Theorem does not exist on the theory to the speed of light.

Don't try to use the one on Radar because I know what the outcome will be on this concept.