Se,/while a global catastrophe is taking place certain Indians know how to arrive at a place to stop and rest with no fear for the catastrophe.

There is still another group, and for the sake of a name, lets call them THE TRAVELING STONE GROUP whose wealth and membership is unbelievable who have studied all the Migration Trails and know them backwards and forward and have built villeges along many of the trails. I have been asked to buy join many of them, without paying the fee and this fee would/the average person a good home in middle-class America.

Well the average Indian of the America's believes THE GREAT MIGRATION is only a story or legend, and told by the Old Ones who can neither write or read the English language:
