

- 2) Each outgoing leader was to have no heirs, and if there was any, the heirs were to marry barren women. (So far, Washington has been the only one that has kept this ritual.)

Because these Ancients permitted this change of power, they would be held in ignorance and would not be able to practice their religion.

- 3) Should there be an heir that becomes a follower of another Jehiovah or be accountable to another Ancient type ritual, then the power of the Jehiovah divides by two and is lost.

One only has to study THE CLIVEDEN SET of Britian and the descendants and know that half the power is gone.

Now we come to the Ancient don'ts.

- a) one must never attack another Ancient tribe because they have the same clan equations and arrangements and are family and are brother and sisters.
- 1) Should you attack an Ancient tribe and destroy it, you will be without the protection of the CREATOR, GREAT SPIRIT and your people will believe in false spirits.
- 2) Should you attack an Ancient tribe and be driven back, you will be given a time to change your ways but it must be done before the three cycles of the Great Spirit of time.
- 3) Should you not change your ways before the third cycle of the Great Serpent begins, your power will cease and you will become the judged.

Well! Lets see! There was Veitnam(1) I don't know if Korea counts. Lets hope it doesn't but if it does, I'm totally unprepared to go on a GREAT MIGRATION.

So, by a plan, Russia must leave Afghanistan to break the power of George Washington. Whether AFGHANISTAN is second or third, it really doesn't matter. The issues of this religion have been broken and the power is up for grabs.

The only other alternative that would settle the issues beyond a question of a doubt, would be a NUCLEAR HOLOCAUST. The more dangerous alternative would be the one that will be used. It still doesn't matter because these Ancients laws are not revocable. To visit any Indian reservation in this country, there is not enough Ancient knowledge for rituals left to where they could step in and stop its destiny.

the heirs were to marry barren women. (So far, Washington has been the only one that has kept this ritual.)

Because these Ancients permitted this change of power, they would be held in ignorance and would not be able to practice their religion.

3") Should there be an heir that becomes a follower of another Jehovah or be accountable to another Ancient type ritual, then the power of the Jehovah divides by two and is lost.

One only has to study THE CLIVEDEN SET of Britain and the descendants and know that half the power is gone.

Now we come to the Ancient dog's.

one must never attack another Ancient tribe because they have the same clan equations and arrangements and are family and are brother and sisters.

a)

1) Should you attack an Ancient tribe and destroy it, you will be without the protection of the CREATOR, GREAT SPIRIT and your people will believe in false spirits.

2) Should you attack an Ancient tribe and be driven back, you will be given a time to change your ways but it must be done before the three cycles of the Great Spirit of time.

3) Should you not change your ways before the third cycle of the Great Serpent begins, your power will cease and you will become the judged.

Well! Lets see! There was Vietnam(1) I don't know if Korea counts.

Lets hope it doesn't but if it does, I'm totally unprepared to go on a GREAT MIGRATION.

So, plan, Russia must leave Afghanistan to break the power of George Washington. Whether AFGHANISTAN is second or third, it really doesn't matter. The issues of this religion have been broken and the power is up for grabs.

The only other alternative that would settle the issues beyond a question of a doubt, would be a NUCLEAR HOLOCAUST. The dangerous alternative would be the one that will be used. It still doesn't matter because these Ancients laws are not revocable. To visit any Indian reservation in this country, there is not enough Ancient knowledge for rituals left to they could step in and stop its destiny.