

Such statements and conclusions openly show that the make-up of the Sun is not known, and the Ancient Indians of the America's that I have met and talked with would totally disagree with this.

To review from the Ancient's way of thinking, it makes Einstein's theory plan stupid.

TIME as a word, understood and comprehended today, is not a physic law or scientific conclusion but a general idea to record a duration or occasion which can only be referenced to an existence from the PAST, to the PRESENT, and on to the FUTURE.

The Ancient's have a scientific theory that states:

THE PRESENT minus THE PAST equals THE FUTURE. In this theory the Ancients isolated and omitted the Speed of LIGHT and used only the speed of TIME to calculate THE PRESENT.

The Ancients taught that TIME is in a Pure State and is one of the first building blocks to Creation because it has no beginning or ending. It will be the first and last.

Time as it is used and understood today is not in its original Cipher(Arabic-digr) but is a substitute for a changed Symbol or Letter or Number and had not this changed taken place, it would be a science today.(TIME)

Any and all existences owe their classification to a reference which is understood by its relationship to TIME. All sciences including sounds which include Languages, sights, reasoning, and touch owe their existences to their relationship to TIME.

As stated Einstein's theory is just that and nothing more because it can't be applied to the present system of sciences.

Let us assume that I had an opportunity to view the same ancient records that Albert Einstein looked at. What scientific conclusion would be presented to the world? $E = T C^2$ the Sun is not known, and the Ancient Indians of the Americas

To review from the 19th century's of thinking, it makes Einstein's theory plan stupid.

WEE as a word, understood and comprehended today, is not a physics
PRÉSENT, on to the