

Time Walker: "See that folder I carry? Like the man on ^{"Fredo"} T.V. commercials, "Its in there!" Don't tell me I can't read because their in Latin."

Buddy; "You've got them."

Penny: "Its a physical impossibility because the experience everybody here went through. Before we set out to make our mark in this world, each of us were permitted by our teachers to only read, We could not touch the pages of these old books."

Time Walker: "Which one held your interest?"

Wynona: "You don't want to look like a fool. You're getting into subject matter, I'm a master at. Here's where I can make you look like a fool. O!Key! Rome's Caesar, Justinianus the 1st.?"

Clair: "Wynona! You dare challenge the Time Walker? Bite your tongue!"

Time Walker: "Lets see...that would be 536a.d...octo, August and it reads: "Anno imperii nono deliquium lucis passus est Sol, quod annum integrum et duos amplius menses duravit, adeo ut parum admodum de luce ipsius appareret; dixeruntque homines Soli aliquid accidisse..

Wynona: "O!Key! so you know."

Time Walker; "It is found in-Gregorius Abu'l-Faragius, Supplementum Historie Dynastiarium, 1663, page 94."

Buddy: "Johnny! Your quoting what only our kind is permitted to know! Is this the same as the people that sent us? And if it is, were not going to have to much trouble finding a trail!"

Time Walker: "NO! It is different! I know what the inside of their temple or buildings or whatever you want to call, them looks like. I know their songs, dances, even their wedding rituals. The date of Feasts and what they eat and drink. What I don't know is, what the outside looks like, that can be found in every major city in the world."
